Re: License Revocation Order

Dear Mr Jarvis;

I am in receipt of your order, effective Oct 27, 2004, revoking my insurance license in the State of WA. I am aggrieved by this order, and pursuant to my right, under RCW48.04.010, I demand a hearing to contest it.

I am electing Option 1, as noted in your order of Revocation, dated Oct 7, 2004, for handling the hearing.

I am harmed by this order as it deprives me access to my family business, continuously operated in Oak Harbor, Wa for the past 42 yrs.

I disagree with the decision as it does not allow for mitigating and extenuating circumstances associated with these events:

- 1) The certificates were not all issued by me. I believe that some of them may be forged.
- 2) The insured, and all other parties involved, were kept harmless in these events.
- 3) The number of certificates are overstated, as many were written on the same date.
- 4) The insured had an ulterior motive for causing harm to the licensee. She did not suffer any loss as the result of these events, and has established a personal intimate relationship with her new agent. They would gain from the removal of a competitor. And, in fact, have so orchestrated this entire investigation.
- 5) The premium payments for Sean Bryne were a loss only to the licensee.
- 6) The above mentioned payments were a one time thing.
- 7) The agency operation has been corrected as requested.
- 8) No time line was specified in the Agency Name issue.

I am submitting this request by certified mail. Receipt requested. I understand that I will be contacted by the Hearing Office regarding the hearing. I further understand that the order of revocation will be stayed until such hearing takes place.

Respectfully submitted this date, Oct 20, 2004.
